

Camera shutters clicking,
A board is standing there, wrote as "Welcome freshers" amidst the colourful vibe.
Blurred chatters filling the air,
Through the hallways where the chatter still echoes and carries,
carrying his bag, walking excitedly, side by side with his buddy.
shoulders set back and relaxed, Adhil stood at the doorstep of his classroom almost like he is ready to start another chapter in his life as it was his second year at the college.

RAKESH

(Looking at Adhil)

We've got a long way to go. and since its the fresher's day we might get to see some beautiful girls joining our film club.

(Adhil, with a disappointed look)

ADHIL

Bro, Grow up. If a girl is written in your story, surely one day or another you will meet her. Who knows? maybe the girl destined to change my life might come up and say "Excuse me, can you move for ..."

(A voice interrupted their chat)

"Excuse me, can you move for me" A voice said from behind the duo.

(Adhil thinking that the moment is finally happening turned around)

"What are you looking at lads? I bet you've hoped it to be a girl so that you could act like 'the good man'." The man said, as it turned out to be Adhil's friend Daniel.

(Adhil gets annoyed with Daniel's way of speaking.)

ADHIL

No i wasn't, we were about to enter the classroom trying to grasp what it'll be like to be in our second year of 'SaSh university'.

(They went inside and took their seats.)

(The teacher and the other students came. They settled down and the teacher started to take his class.)

(A peon came in with an announcement.)

(With the teacher's permission he read,)

PEON

The members of SaSh film club should gather at the club room to meet the new members.